FEBRUARY 2018

Dear Friend,

In our weekly Wednesday morning Bible Study at the moment we are looking at the book of Daniel. I think that Daniel is, in many ways, a difficult character for us to be encouraged by, for he is the one Biblical character (apart from Christ) who appears not to have any faults at all.

It is because of this that we can struggle with Daniel, for we can be so overawed by his goodness that we begin to think that we could never live up to the example that he sets before us. Yet, it is the opposite that should be true. For his steadfastness, loyalty, and trust should be both example and encouragement to us.

For in the difficult times, even those when rulers and powers were against him, he remained faithful to God. He never wavered in his faith and belief. He always trusted that God would be with him, no matter what difficulties or challenges he faced.

Can we say the same? When the difficult times of our lives come, as they surely do, are we able to remain faithful to our God? Or do we let that faith and trust slip and begin, instead, to rely on our own strength?

May we, as we face the challenges that confront us - however they come, and whatever they bring - may we follow the example of Daniel, always striving to remain faithful to our God and trusting in His constant care.

In His name,
Martyn
