DAILY READINGS

"The Lord is king!
Let the earth rejoice;

The heavens proclaim his righteousness;
and all the peoples behold his glory."

Psalm 97:1 & 6

November 2017

Dear Friend,

This time of year is often one that has us looking back and reflecting upon what has happened in our lives. It is also frequently a time of remembrance, particularly with regard to those who have died, as we move through All Saints' and All Souls' days into Remembrance Sunday.

This hymn, by Marjorie Dobson (StF733), helps us to reflect on our losses and remember that God is with us.

God, hold us, enfold us, through desolate loss.
The sign of your love is your own empty cross.
The shock and the anger, the hopeless despair are echoes of Calvary. God, meet us there!

God, hold us, enfold us, through long empty days,
when living is pointless, a meaningless maze.
We need you to listen to raging and tears,
to anguish and doubt, to remorse and to fears.

God, hold us, enfold us, by friends who can share
our sorrow and pain with compassionate care.
By their words, you speak out your loving concerns.
They hold us for you, while the tide of grief turns.

God, hold us, enfold us, till weeping has passed;
when flickering hope parts the shadows at last.
One step at a time you will help us to move to face new horizons, held safe in your love.

In His name, Martyn
